START THE PARTY

Ensure none of the boys moan about being bored by throwing a few hilarious stag party games into the mix between your awesome stag activities to keep morale high and everybody in the celebratory mood!

#1 TOY SOLDIERS

You'll need:

A bag containing plastic toy soldiers

Rules: Before the night begins, the best man will put all toy soldiers in a bag. Each stag then pulls out a soldier at random – that is now his pose. Between pubs or at any random moment, the best man shouts the command: "Assume the position!" and the life-size toy soldiers (stags) must hold the pose of their mini soldier.

#2 BUG PONG

You'll need:

Beer, edible bugs, cups, table, ping pong ball.

Rules: Prepare the bug pong table by filling the cups (use the number of cups to suit your group size), half of the cups should be filled with beer or other stag friendly drinks, the other cups should be filled with edible bugs. Fill the cups low enough so the players can see what's inside from the throwing line. Players then take it in turns to bounce the ball on the table, whatever they hit they must down in one. Any player who fails to get a ball in a cup three times in a row must eat a bug.

#3 MR AND MRS QUIZ

You'll need:

Our list of hilarious questions

Based on the classic TV show, but with far more humiliation for the groom, we've split our quiz into five increasingly embarrassing rounds to torture and terrify the groom ("Just wait until we tell your Mrs how you answered!"). You can download or print the full set of questions for free.

#4 KNICKERS

You'll need:

A pair of knickers

Rules: A really easy game to get going. All the stag party game players put a coin in the palm of their hand. When the best man says the word "Knickers," all the players open their palms to show their coin. The best man then counts up how many are showing heads and how many are showing tails. The players with the highest number of corresponding faces showing are safe while the rest play on (so if there are 15 of you on the stag, and there are 8 heads and 7 tails, then those holding heads are all safe and the other 7 players go again).

This continues until you have a loser. If it comes down to just two players, then it comes down to a coin toss. The loser has to put the knickers on over his trousers and keep them on until the next bar when the game is played

TO MAKE IT MORE INTERESTING ASK THE BRIDE-TO-BE TO DONATE A PAIR OF HER KNICKERS!

#5 LAST MAN STANDING

You'll need:

A pair of outrageous pants.

Rules: At any point during the evening, if a stag sits down on the ground, the rest of the stags must follow suit. The last man standing must then wear the hideous pants over the top of his trousers until the next time the game is played. But... should a stag sit down and none of the others join in, then he must wear the pants.

Extra: If you're sly, you can set it up so that the groom falls foul on the first round, has to wear the pants, and then you simply don't play the game again leaving him stitched up for the rest of the night.

#6 LAST MAN STANDING

You'll need:

A set of waxing strips.

Rules: These are purely random moments. Every time a member of the party fails a challenge, doesn't take a dare or loses a game, get a passer-by to use a waxing strip somewhere on his body. Quick. Painful. Hilarious.

Three men are shown in a bar setting, looking excited and shouting. The man on the left has his mouth wide open in a shout. The man in the middle is also shouting with his mouth open. The man on the right is shouting with his right fist raised in the air. They are all wearing casual shirts.

#7 BEN HUR

You'll need:

A bunch of stupid but relatively fit blokes.

Rules: When it's time to move on to the next bar, assemble the group outside and split them into even-numbered teams and tell them which bar is to be your next port of call. Now tell the teams they must decide who amongst them is the lightest – this man is now the 'charioteer' and the rest of the team are now the 'roman chariot'. Get them under starters orders and, on your command, the rest of the team must pick up their driver and race to the next bar. They can carry him any way they see fit, but the charioteer's feet must not hit the ground at any time.

#8 FREEZE FRAME

You'll need:

Eyes in the back of your head

Rules: At any given point in the evening a stag can freeze completely still. The rest of the stags must follow suit. The last man to spot it and freeze must pay a (pint?) penalty.

#9 SEND TO ALL

You'll need:
No phones!

Rules: This is a stag do so all phones should be off-limits when all the lads are together. Any stag found in breach of this golden rule will have his phone taken off him and handed to the groom who will then send a text to the phone's entire contact list without the guilty party seeing what is written.

#10 MAN WITH NO NAME

You'll need:
Stag nicknames

Rules: Names... pfft, they're just so last year. Nicknames, that's what you need. Assign all the stags a nickname. Anyone who forgets and uses a stag's real name rather than his stag nickname must face a forfeit.
